Quick and Easy

As you would expect barcode scanning is the main way of serving items to be sold. However our touch screen design offers fast and flexible screen layouts for different products types, using pictures as well as drill down menus to assist operator serving. Very handy when working on fast moving, expensive or multiple choice items.

Featured and Functional

The till offers all the regular feature buttons of price override, discounts, layaway, queue busting and many more that you would expect of this level of system. It contains a strong set of promotions such as multi buys, mix and match, link sales, cheapest free, kits of items, and supplier vouchers. Also included are chip and pin compliant credit cards and support for free standing or integrated scales.

Customer Service

Customers can identify themselves using your logo account cards issued to them. This will then enable them to use any of the following features, trade account, delivery, discount club or loyalty. As well as giving credit or discount to the correct people it also enables a sales pattern to be built up identifying regular customers for targeted rewards.

Reliable and Secure

The solution is not dependent on a central server to keep selling as all tills can work standalone. Normally the new lines and changes for the tills and sales coming back from the tills get updated on a real time basis. For security reasons some features will need to be run under supervisor control, typically refunds or cash drawer opening, so these have access and password tests.

Choose the right system and start turning epos into profit, it ticks all the boxes

The Open Retail till software offers you a proven solution that will increase sales by using all the built in functionality as developed by our successful retailers.
